Lesson 2: Thank You
Speaking Gratitude

THE SPOTLIGHT

YOUR PLACE FOR WEEKLY NEWS & UPDATES

BY DAVID SALISBURY, Minister

Well this is certainly not how we envisioned the next few weeks going! Out of an abundance of caution, blah blah blah, rising cases, yada yada yada, wash your hands, wear a mask and stay six feet apart. It feels like that, sometimes, doesn't it? Hang on and let's do a quick reality check, because we can all lose our focus in hard times. This week we'll celebrate Thanksgiving and if you are in a position to be "so over" this virus "junk" and a governor making rules about school, holiday gatherings and even church service, then be thankful. It's worth remembering that some folks will spend the holidays worried about loved ones they can't visit in the ICU. While some people gripe about limiting social gatherings to 25 people, others are trying to figure out which 25 people can come to the funeral they are planning. These times are hard on all of us in many different ways, but we can give thanks for the blessings we enjoy, even during a pandemic.

My point wasn't just to bum us all out about how bad it could be. As Christians, our two guiding rules for everything we do is to love God and love others. We continue to make worship a priority. Our love for God is not determined by where we worship Him, but how we do it. So we will worship in spirit and in truth from our homes virtually for a few weeks. We'll do that because we love others enough to make some sacrifices for their well being and because we can humble ourselves and do what's best for those who are most at risk in our community. And we'll do this with the full understanding that all of this is temporary. We will gather once again with all our brothers and sisters in worship. The pandemic does not have eternal life, but we do! I'm thankful we have the ability to worship virtually and I look forward to the promise of a perfect place with no sickness where nothing interferes with our ability love and worship the Lord! - David
